Jefferson Manor Spring Egg Hunt

This year, a neighborhood Spring Egg Hunt was organized by manor resident Darcey Pancoast & held at Jefferson Manor Park on March 24. A total of 275 eggs were stuffed and hidden by community volunteers, and about 20 participants searched high and low for hidden eggs. One eagle-eyed participant got a prize for finding the Golden Egg, and a lucky family even won a Bob & Edith's gift card! Thank you to all of the volunteers who stuffed and hid eggs and to Darcey for organizing and hosting the event.

JMCA COMMUNITY YARD SALE

The JMCA community yard sale is back! It will take place on Saturday, June 8th from 7 a.m. - 12 p.m.

Communal "Name Your Own Price" Sale: (Location: Corner of Fairhaven/Monticello) Donate new, gently used, and nice things to the "Name Your Own Price" section of the communal yard sale. 100% of the money raised from this section will go to Mount Eagle Elementary. Donations (boxed or bagged) can be dropped off anytime starting on Saturday, June 1. NOTE: The drop off address for items is 2800 Fairhaven Drive (driveway and patio on Fairhaven Ave). Unsold items will not be returned.

Be Your Own Seller at the Communal Location: Bring your items to the communal yard sale location and set up/attend to your own "shop." While not mandatory, we do ask that some portion of your proceeds be donated to Mount Eagle Elementary.

Set Up in Your Own Yard: We'll add you to a map that will be distributed electronically and printed from the communal location. You put up your own signs (7 maximum per county regulations) to direct people to your yard. If you'd like to donate some of your proceeds (10% suggestion) to Mount Eagle, then we will help facilitate that!

Volunteer to Help at the Communal Yard:

We need volunteers to help put the items out, interact with customers, and pack up the remaining items at the end of the day. We'll also have our JMCA Membership table, donuts/snacks, orange juice, and mimosas!

Jefferson Manor Newsletter

MAY/JUNE

Letter from the President Sharon Evans

Hello everyone! I'm honored to be the JMCA President this year. I've lived in the Manor for the last six years with my husband and somewhat noisy, but very sweet, pup named Archie. This is an incredible neighborhood and I look forward to serving with the rest of the all-volunteer Board to keep the momentum going from the last amazing group of Board members.

To that end, we've already been hard at work planning events for 2024. In addition to the Yard Sale described on the newsletter cover, there are several more upcoming events to highlight.

Join us on May 14th at 7:00 p.m. at Mount Eagle Elementary School for our next Community Meeting. We're still working on topics so let us know if there's something you would really like to hear about. (E-mail: President@jeffersonmanor.org).

The annual Al & Sandy Snyder Home & Garden Tour will be on May 18th, from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. You can participate by displaying your garden or part of your home. Want to show off a renovation? Did you find a new way to use space in our wonderful townhomes? Have you created a haven for wildlife? Please consider sharing by participating in this event! Or travel the neighborhood and see what everyone has to show. To participate as a display home or garden, please e-mail info@jeffersonmanor.org or respond on the Facebook event page.

I'd like to leave you with a favorite quote. The author is unknown, but the sentiment is perfect. "Volunteering is the ultimate exercise in democracy. You vote in elections once a year, but when you volunteer, you vote every day about the kind of community you want to live in." Please contact any JMCA Board member to see how you can use your talents and volunteer in the Manor.

GARDENING IN THE MANOR

Well as we expected summer is making an early arrival, or at least we are having some hot days. But this is an opportunity to extoll the benefits of clay soil! I know our clay soil gets a very bad rap and if you're new to it, it's really challenging to work with. So let me share what I've learned. First some of the clear benefits. Clay soil is great at holding on to moisture, and from someone who gardened in sandy soils of Florida, the fact that a hot day does not instantly result in dropping plants is very welcomed. The clay also holds on to nutrients quite well which means there's less need to be fertilizing constantly. It's hard to work, but I've realized a pitch fork style tool works quite well to loosen soil and is less affected by the small rocks that are common in the Manor. I also find a narrow cutting style shovel works quite well in clay. Of course, it's also true that heavy clay is not what some plants, and most gardeners, want. To get started on improving the soil, adding organic matter is the way to go. I'm personally a fan of leaf based composts (which don't threaten peat bog habitats) which you can get at box stores or have delivered. You can actually use this as a top dressing if you're patient because our worms will do the work of pulling it deeper into the soil. Organic mulches like pine bark or hardwood mulch will work the same way and I often use a bit of both. I choose smaller sized mulch; this is less likely to run off with rain but also works into the soil more quickly. Apply these top dressings regularly and your soil will get better and better!

IN THE VEG PATCH

I'm guessing many of you have opted for raised beds for vegetable gardening, and so have I. One cost of that is the moisture clay holds is pretty far down. In hot weather you will need to water to keep those veggies happy. Given we've jumped into summer I've started to put in the warm weather crops and even seeds seem to be happily germinating so long as I keep up with the watering. Warm weather veggies include favorites like tomatoes, eggplant, peppers, as well as numerous herbs, especially basil! My biggest issue these days is that squirrels love to dig in that lovely raised-bed soil, so I'm thinking I may try a cover. I prefer finer mesh screening to the loose mesh monofilament cloth (i.e., with mesh on the order of ½ inch); that monofilament "cloth" traps birds and snakes and is really a nuisance to free them from.

Happy Growing!

The Al & Sandy Snyder Home and Garden Tour is May 18th!
This a great opportunity to see some of the interior renovations, remodels or additions that have been done in the neighborhood over the years. It is also an opportunity to learn about the gardens and outdoor living spaces our neighbors have created.

Amanda's Cleaning

I am Amanda Florian and my business is your neighborhood maid service.

We continue to support your cleaning needs during the shutdown for COVID-19. My team and I wear masks and gloves in your home and my cleaning service includes disinfection.

As always, I don't charge more for pets. We offer recurring cleanings, as well as one-time deep cleaning and cleanings for move-ins and move-outs.

I have been cleaning homes for 16 years and have references in Jefferson Manor. I have the best prices in the area.

We work hard to make your home look clean and bright!

NEW JMCA DUES

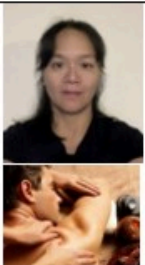

Following a debate at the March Annual Meeting, JMCA members voted to increase dues to better support the vigorous schedule of activities we host throughout the year. Your dues -- now $25 per year or $45 for two years -- continue to support Jefferson Manor's various events like the festive Holiday Extravaganza, the amazing Block Party, the spirited Chili Cook-off and Members Reception, etc. Plus, they cover supplies for community service opportunities like the recent Spring Park Cleanup and Welcome Wagon baskets, and provide for the JM sign maintenance at Fort-Monticello Road — and so many other things for our neighborhood! Your generous support keeps all this possible! To join or renew your membership, pay online via PayPal at JeffersonManor.org, use the mail-in form on Page 7, or pay in person at any JMCA event.

SAVE THE DATE!!!

The JMCA Block Party will be September 28 on Monticello Road at Fairhaven Avenue. Last year's block party had an estimated 400 attendees and 17 sponsors/booths/activities that provided something for everyone! Your neighborhood civic association, the JMCA, hosted this community-gathering event that was paid for with your JMCA dues, generous donations from Manorites and sponsorships from local businesses and neighbors doing business in the Manor. Stay tuned for more info on sponsoring this amazing event!
